The image shows two side-by-side screenshots from an iPad. The left screenshot is the 'Settings' app, with the 'Classroom' option highlighted in blue. The right screenshot is the 'Classroom' app, showing a 'NEW CLASS INVITATION' section with a blue box around the text 'Add your class, it will be in blue here'. Below this, under 'ALLOW TEACHER TO', the 'Lock Apps and Device' and 'AirPlay and View Screen' options are both set to 'Always', with red boxes around these settings and an arrow pointing to them from the text 'Change Both to ALWAYS'.

This screenshot shows the 'Add' screen in the Classroom app. At the top, it says 'Add 10:30 DED318 Fall 2017'. Below that is a profile for 'Cyndi Kuhn'. Under 'MY INFORMATION', there is a red box around a text input field with the placeholder 'Enter the code provided by the teacher to add this class:' and four dashes '----'. Red arrows point from the 'Settings' app icon and the 'Classroom' option in the previous screenshot to this screen. A large red arrow points from the text 'Try to FIGURE how to put Add your picture' to the profile picture area. At the bottom, red text reads: 'Enter the class code on the screen in the front of the room, it will then say waiting for the teacher, just be patient & WAIT'.

This screenshot shows the 'Add Students to this Class' screen in the Classroom app. It features a profile icon with a plus sign and a red box around it. Below the icon, the text reads 'You will show up here when you enter the code'. At the bottom, the word 'CODE' is written in large, green, outlined letters.
